

RMC Liquid Release

DESCRIPTION

RMC Precision Liquid Release is a low-cost bubble gum scented release and bond breaker for use in the concrete stamping process. Application of RMC Precision Liquid Release to the concrete surface and stamps prior to stamping will prevent the transfer of the wet paste to the stamping mat. It may also be applied to tools to prevent them from marring patterns in fresh concrete and may be used when stamping or texturing cementitious overlays. RMC Precision Liquid Release will not damage integrally colored concrete and is suitable for use with most color hardeners. It will evaporate completely, leaving no residue, and will not interfere with the application of solvent-borne sealers. RMC Precision Liquid Release is not intended for use as a bond breaker for tilt-up construction.

Since the material evaporates, it is necessary to minimize the time between application of the release material and the imprinting process. Mats and tools will need to be periodically re-sprayed. The evaporation rate of RMC Precision Liquid Release affected by wind, humidity, and temperature. Avoid applying excessive amounts of the material, as this may cause defects in the concrete surface.
